

THE ALIEN FEMVASION

FEMDOM-THEMED ALIEN INVASION

BY NEOCORONA

SUBSCRIBESTAR.ADLT/NEOCORONA

THE INITIAL WAR WITH THE ALIEN INVADERS WAS SHOCKING BRIEF AND DECISIVE, WITH VERY FEW DEATHS ON EITHER SIDE BEING A RESULT OF DIRECT COMBAT.

THE INVASION

Humanity's first official contact with the invaders was swift and unexpected, with an armada of ships appearing suddenly in skies across the world, deploying smaller vessels to the surface in and around large human settlements.

Emerging from these dropships came a multitude of green-skinned humanoid women, scantily clad in scarlet red uniforms that barely concealed their heavy cleavage. They moved with singular purpose wherever they went, bent on nothing less than to capture and mate with every human male they could find.

Ahead of this en masse invasion, the Aliens had already covertly deployed their more specialized combat force to disrupt human chains of command and strategic weaponry, leaving most human settlements to defend themselves with isolated military responses.

Unfortunately the Aliens' superior technology and physiology proved difficult to match. Protective devices shielded them from all manner of firearms, and each had physical strength that easily overpowered the typical human male.

To make matters even worse, male humans who engaged with them in close quarters soon found themselves overwhelmed by feelings of arousal and a desire to submit. The pheromones the Aliens emitted invoked an instinctual primal desire from their human male prey, an intense need to submit and spread their legs in the presence of their superiors.

For those men that looked the aliens in the eyes, the battle was well and truly over. The semi-hypnotic gaze they possessed would strip away any desire to resist, and leave nothing but a deep desire to please. Soon they would want nothing, need nothing more than to plunge their cocks into the embrace of their green goddesses, abandoning all else.

ALIENS

Originating from the depths of outer space, the Alien invaders are a society of female humanoids whose purpose is to 'colonize' new worlds they encounter by cross-breeding with the local intelligent lifeforms, thus creating a new species well adapted to the planets existing biosphere while being part of their social and evolutionary lineage.

The Aliens are a species that is axiomatically predisposed to the act of mating. Their entire society, technology and culture revolve around the sustainable and eternal pursuit of sexual pleasure and the act of reproduction.

They typically conclude that the 'male' or genetic vector of any species they encounter is best subordinated and given purely over to the role of reproductive pleasure. Thus upon arriving on Earth, they quickly subdued the vast majority of human males to use as breeding stock and sex pets.

In order to properly hybridize with humanity, the entire population of the alien fleet was born into female humanoid bodies produced from scouting and observation data of humans gathered well in advance of their arrival. Whatever form they took previously was apparently discarded, and remains a mystery.

ALIEN CITIZENS

Citizens are the most numerous rank of alien and are employed in a wide variety of careers required to keep an interstellar fleet functioning. Their efforts and labor can be directed by aliens of higher rank when required but they are generally free to pursue work based on their disposition and talents.

Citizens also enjoy a number of rights that protect their everyday quality of life and maintain a healthy and happy community, including free access to human males for frequent casual sex. The Aliens can control their biological impulses with medical technology, but as long as males are available they would prefer to spend their recreational time fucking.

Citizens all wear a 'uniform' resembling a bright red leotard combined with white flared gloves and boots. The materials resemble rubber or latex due to their reflectivity but they are in actuality a highly functional garment weaved with nanotechnology.

Aside from being highly durable, it is also completely resistant to stains of all kinds, a useful feature for a species that does not have time to waste on undressing when there is mating to be done.

THE ALIENS NEGOTIATE WITH MALES IN A VERY DIRECT MANNER, NOTHING LESS THAN TOTAL SUBMISSION FOR A LIFETIME OF SEXUAL GRATIFICATION. FOR MALES TO DESIRE ANYTHING ELSE IS A WASTE OF THEIR TALENT AND POTENTIAL.

NEGOTIATION AND DIPLOMACY

With their initial invasion crippling the human's ability to respond with significant military force, the aliens used their position of power to begin negotiations with Earth's leadership, to secure the orderly management of the remaining male population, as well as the logistics and details of the aliens gradual habitation and merging with the extant human population.

Given their overwhelming defeats during the invasion, human leadership had little choice but to participate in such negotiations - however many early attempts failed spectacularly as human administrations often sent male representatives and male security forces to the meetings. Initially, this action was not as foolish as it seemed, as countermeasures can be taken against the alien's eyes and pheromones, and elderly statesmen, both worldly and well past their sexual prime were considered ideal candidates for discussions.

Ultimately though, the humans greatly underestimated their opponent's ability for rational seduction. Alien diplomats are quite frank about nature of male existence within alien society, but their promise of a lifetime of vigorous sexual gratification is quite effective at stirring interest in almost any male that listens. A momentary lapse in judgment is often all it takes, and men of good character will find themselves spreading their legs as the alien's true method of negotiation begins. Even the weariest cocks that have been limp for years will spring to life with renewed vigor, and the promise of paradise will wash their minds clean as hungry mouths devour them whole.

While one might expect the aliens to take full advantage of such situations, they typically would just send notices back to the humans that the males had resigned their positions and defect, complete with recordings of the meeting in full. It took little more than a month after these incidents that the leadership of earth transitioned to almost exclusively female government, and negotiations after that point proceeded far more smoothly, albeit with a not insubstantial number of female defectors as a result.

AFTER THE INVASION, HUMAN LEADERSHIP FELL ALMOST ENTIRELY INTO THE HANDS OF THE FEMALE POPULATION. AFTER LOSING SO MANY MEN TO THE SEDUCTION OF THE ALIENS, NO HUMAN MALE COULD BE TRUSTED WITH ANY AUTHORITY EVER AGAIN.

THE NEW ORDER

In the aftermath of the initial invasion, almost 60% of the world's adult male population was taken into Alien custody. Having reached a final compromise with the now majority female leadership of the human species, a formal surrender and cessation of hostilities was reached.

In exchange for the 'management' rights of the male human population, female humans would be able to maintain a level of independence. 25-30% of the human males, excluding children, would stay with the female humans, while the remaining portion would be integrated into the Alien society, to be raped, bred, and milked to further their goal of a hybrid species.

Maintaining a viable independent human population was preferable for the Alien's goals - if all went well with the new hybrids then the two species would slowly merge into one over several generations, but if anything went disastrously wrong then humanity would survive and another colony fleet could try again in a few centuries. Additionally, the hybrids would be as human as they were aliens, and would only benefit from learning the history and cultural heritage of both parent species.

As a formal show of submission, many of humanity's former male leadership were publicly stripped and raped by the alien females while the world watched on. Whatever spirit they once had now thoroughly broken by pleasure, they declared loyalty to their new mistresses before ejaculating in utter surrender.

Although human society would survive into the future thanks to these negotiations, human culture could not go unchanged by such radical developments. Among them were rebelling elements of humanity that would not give up the fight, misandrist movements that were now deeply distrustful of men, and alien sympathizers that sought to join or benefit from the Alien's advanced society.

ALIEN DIPLOMAT

While the aliens had no qualms with forcing the human race to abide by their wishes, they did still make some effort to negotiate cooperation with human populations following their initial invasion.

Having displayed a level of power that outclassed anything humans could compete with the aliens sent dignitaries to meet with and attempt to persuade humans of the benefits of cooperating with the alien's management.

The earliest of these encounters were almost all colossal disasters for the human side, as they almost all sent male representatives with male security to conduct the negotiations. The few human women that were present returned alone to describe how the aliens 'negotiations' had resulted in the mass rape and abduction of all the male members.

From then onward, humans would only send females to negotiate further with the aliens and eventually various accommodations would be agreed to. While all human males were ultimately placed under the alien's supervision, as a result, human females would still have access to them for sex, and the human population as a whole would benefit from access to technology that would greatly increase the standard of living for the species overall.

ALIEN SECURITY

While humans would naturally view the sudden presence of alien authority as an invasion, the aliens themselves do not view their takeover of the earth as a military operation, and so surprisingly few of the Aliens that humans encounter could be described as soldiers or military personnel.

That being said there is still a need for civic order and general security both between species and in the alien's internal society, and so encounters with the black-clad Alien security forces are not uncommon.

Alien security officers act as the civic police force for the alien's society, enforcing laws and keeping the peace wherever required. They are typically both well-trained and physically conditioned to fulfill their role efficiently and can as a result handle any mere humans strength with almost dismissive ease, as many males discovered during the early stages of the invasion.

ALL NEWLY ACQUIRED HUMAN MALES WILL UNDERGO A THOROUGH EXAMINATION BEFORE HAVING A NANOMACHINE COLONY INSTALLED NEAR THEIR PROSTATE. RESULTS OF THIS INITIAL EXAMINATION WILL HEAVILY EFFECT A MALE'S FUTURE ACTIVITIES.

NEW ARRIVALS

The Aliens perform extensive examinations of the human males they have acquired to determine their overall health and suitability for various roles males can perform in Alien society, from breeding, semen production, sex-toy etc. Thanks to the advanced medical technology each male subject can look forward to a long and productive life in the care of their new mistresses.

Aside from being scanned and having various samples taken for analysis, each male also has a probe inserted to install a nanomachine colony, which integrates into their bodies near their reproductive organs. The process typically causes rapturous and uncontrollable orgasms and the aliens must carefully attend to the male subject so they are not mentally or physically damaged by the process.

This is considered a basic health measure for all males in their care as the nanomachine will not only be used to monitor their well-being but also both manage and even enhance their bodily functions as required.

As versatile and useful as internal nanomachines are, the individual nano-units are not capable of much without information processing from external technology. Almost all individuals in alien society wear crystal-shaped information units that perform basic management of the nanomachines as well as personal communications and other day-to-day functions.

Extensive body modification via internal nanomachines needs to be handled via specialized equipment, but the Aliens spare no time or energy in pursuit of ideal sexual health and maximized pleasure. At the bare minimum, all human males in their care will receive a substantial penis enhancement, improving size, shape, and endurance to better serve their female superiors.

EVEN IF BREEDING WAS NOT THE EXPLICIT GOAL, PUBLIC ORGIES ARE AN INTEGRAL PART OF THE ALIEN'S EVERYDAY LIFESTYLE. CIRCUMSTANCES PERMITTING, EVERY ALIEN INDIVIDUAL WILL VISIT THE ORGY CHAMBERS AT LEAST ONCE A DAY, IF NOT MORE.

MASS INTERBREEDING

The Aliens colonize worlds by adapting their own bodies to be compatible with the local life forms, but the process limits their biological diversity and the success rate of conception during the first generation is low. Thankfully the male humans under their supervision can provide an ample supply of genetic material to address the need for diversity and overcome the odds of a successful hybrid conception.

Most of the males taken in by the aliens will be used for their interbreeding program, as barring genetic disease or some other extraordinary circumstance, increasing their biological diversity is the most important consideration. Large public chambers are set up and both human males and citizen-rank aliens are cycled in and out of essentially an endless public orgy of procreative sex.

The nanomachines planted in human men can serve many functions and those bound for the breeding chamber often have their production of sperm and seminal fluids promoted to many times what is normally possible. A single male can typically provide for 30-50 individual females before their health monitors determine they are unable to continue and are moved to recovery rooms until their next session.

Whether deliberately or by some misunderstanding, the aliens adapted their breast milk not for raising young but to promote the sexual functions of their mates. Men who drink it are provided nutrition and energy suitable that can keep them ejaculating even while otherwise seeming exhausted. Most men will often feel spent and beg for rest long before they reach their actual physical potential, but until their health monitor signals that they are indeed spent for the session the aliens will ignore such pleas and continue mating with them, ruthlessly extracting every male's semen to the limit.

ALIEN SECURITY OFFICERS TRAIN EXTENSIVELY TO ENSURE THEY DON'T INJURE MALES DURING SEX, INCLUDING THEIR VAGINAL CANAL, WHICH COULD CRUSH A NORMAL HUMAN PENIS WITH EASE.

ALIEN SECURITY OFFICERS

While the aliens' hypnosis and pheromones combine well with the human males' sheer weakness to the temptation of mating, they are not always 100% effective in ensuring the human men cease all resistance to the aliens' advances, and although Aliens are generally strong enough to handle most males regardless, it can be an inconvenience enough that troublesome males will get turned over to their security forces.

While normal aliens are naturally strong compared to humans, alien security officers work on their strength to handle disputes between other members of their community. As such they are far beyond humans in terms of sheer power, and typically enjoy 'gently' breaking in the males that still have some fight left in them.

And 'gently' is very much the word when a security officer mates with a human male, as they could easily cause dire injury if they are at all careless. Instead, they handle the men as one might a baby bird; softly, measured, and with irresistible force pull the men's defenses apart to expose and feast on their helpless genitals.

Any resistance the unarmed male's muster is often wholly ineffective, often little more than puny desperate blows against an unyielding mountain of female flesh. Their vaginas constrict vicelike around their cocks, tightening to the point where it seems like they could be crushed at will, only to be methodically pumped until their semen squirts, slowly bursting through the intense pressure, drop by precious drop along with torturous waves of intense pleasure.

WHILE ACTUAL SEX IS TYPICALLY PREFERRED, THE ALIENS CONSIDER MALES ATTACHED TO HIGH-YIELD EXTRACTORS TO STILL BE EXCEPTIONALLY FORTUNATE, AS THEY EXPERIENCE AN ENDLESS APEX OF MALE SEXUAL INDULGENCE.

HIGH-YIELD EXTRACTION

While the aliens value biological diversity highly, occasionally a human male is judged to have an especially high-quality genetic profile or some other particularly desirable genetic trait. To get the highest benefits from such males samples without producing too many closely related offspring, each male is secured in a special extraction device which is designed to continuously harvest and examine the male seed so that only the absolute highest quality genetic material is collected for later use.

The machine requires large amounts of semen to produce even a small quantity of high-grade sperm, so the males attached to the device are firmly prevented from moving and are treated via nanomachines and various medical procedures to spend almost all their energy producing and ejaculating semen.

The male human's reproductive organs are held firmly in an ideal environment and their bodies are placed under constant stimulation to ensure they ejaculate regularly to keep up with the increase in their fluid production.

The ejaculation rate is so frequent that each device is also fitted with a special brain monitor that keeps the subject from becoming overly agitated by disrupting their ability to concentrate as well as preventing their brain's pleasure centers from being burnt out though overstimulation.

An odd side effect of this treatment is that it prevents the subjects' brains from being able to recall the pleasure associated with sexual release, and thus every ejaculation they experience while connected with the machine will feel akin to the first ejaculation of their lives, however frequently it has occurred.

Once a subject is placed into a machine there is typically no reason to remove them unless a better sample is found to replace them. Any care the subjects might need beyond what the machines provide is provided by the aliens on duty in the facility, who fondly watch over their charges keeping them healthy and producing for as long as they are in their care.

NUMEROUS HUMAN MALES WERE NOTED TO HAVE A PARTICULAR FASCINATION WITH FEET AND FOOTWEAR. WHILE UNDERSTANDING OF THIS BEHAVIOR IS NOT YET WELL UNDERSTOOD, THE ALIENS NONETHELESS ENJOY WATCHING HUMANS SQUIRT WITH ENTHUSIASM WHEN EXPOSED TO SUCH PECULIAR STIMULI.

HUMAN FETISH RESEARCH

Despite being a race of creatures focused on sexual pleasure and reproduction, the Aliens themselves only very rarely develop the equivalent of human fetishism. For this reason, they are deeply fascinated by this particularly human sexual quality, particularly in the male population for whom sexual pleasure and reproductive ability will greatly define their entire existence in Alien society.

Entire teams of medical personal experiment daily on a variety of males, particularly those displaying an extremely common yet bizarrely inexplicable attraction to feet and their associated odors and wearable paraphernalia. These men spend hours at a time being milked by every manner of foot imaginable, from bare green legs to knee-high boots and everything unbeaten, all while their brain activity and physiological responses are recorded.

Something as simple as changing the color of footwear or the intensity of the smell can make a huge difference in an individual male's responses, and are the subject of intense ongoing scrutiny by Alien researchers.

Mastering the exact processes required for fetish development in human males would be immensely useful for the future of the alien society, as it is a distinctly human ability that would allow them to effectively find sexual gratification in almost anything. Having the exact fetish required to suit whatever activity a male is destined for would only further increase their sexual well-being, from endless mating to being pumped for raw semen.

ALIEN MEDICAL OFFICERS

Aside from their obvious role in providing medical treatment to other members of their society, medical staff are a highly important cornerstone of the alien's efforts to biologically assimilate with the human population.

Every medical officer of any rank or specialty in the alien's society is a trained expert in all matters of reproductive biology, for both practical and pleasurable purposes.

The alien's culture also actively promotes the practice of body modification in the pursuit of sexual pleasure and so medical officers routinely perform various enhancements to their male subjects to increase the size, shape, and yield of the human penis, as well as the most effective methods to extract vast amounts of DNA as efficiently as possible.

The general medical staff wear white uniforms and are responsible for all forms of general medical care, functioning alike to a human nurse and general practitioner. They are responsible for diagnosing illness and providing treatments and medications for another alien citizens, and also are the primary caretakers for human men held in semen extraction devices and human breeding centers.

ALIEN MEDICAL OFFICERS

The more advanced medical officers wear black uniforms and are typically equipped with far more advanced equipment, including a powerful libido suppresser. While first-generation aliens can generally control or indulge their urges effectively enough in everyday life, the higher-ranked medical staff includes surgeons, specialists, and medical scientists whose work benefits from not being distracted by sudden waves of arousal.

Advanced medical staff also tend to not constantly mate like the majority of other aliens, as their duties are often too valuable to be randomly interrupted by pregnancy. They do however often put their otherwise sensitive and dexterous vaginal muscles to work through the use of an artificial limb to assist in their work or daily activities.

After their hands and tongues, the aliens have greater fine control of their vaginas than any other part of their body, and with proper training this ability can be used to operate certain kinds of equipment. Most aliens would prefer to use their vaginas for better things, but for those who abstain from mating for various reason it is a valuable skill.

SOME SACRIFICE IS REQUIRED IN ORDER TO FULLY UNDERSTAND THE LIMITS OF THE HUMAN PENIS. THESE MALES WILL BE PAMPERED EXTENSIVELY ONCE THEIR ROLE IS DONE, BUT THEY WILL NEVER BE ABLE TO FORGET THEIR TIME ON THE EDGE OF SANITY.

EXPERIMENTAL EDGING

Although the Aliens had scouted and studied Earth's inhabitants long before their arrival, there was an undeniable lack of physical samples for them to study and experiment on until they finally arrived on the planet to begin their assimilation project.

While Alien science and technology are far advanced in various fields, all Alien science officers can and do passionately study the limits of carnal knowledge. With a vast male population at their disposal, many of those less suited for breeding were taken for study instead.

The study of the male erection encompasses many different experiments, however, perhaps none of these are more pitiable than the 'edging control' group, a selection of males selected for indeterminate stimulation to determine the limits and long term effects of constant physical stimulation without sexual release.

The males are bound to devices that subject them to constant stimulation, including not only intense stimulation of the penis but all across the body, up to and including physical and audio stimulation of the ears. Numerous safeguards are in place to prevent accidental ejaculation, including rings around the cock which can detect and tighten to prevent discharges, but these are rarely employed as the aliens' ability to provide pinpoint controlled stimulation allows them to maintain a rate of stimulus perfectly calibrated to keep the subject floating on the edge of ejaculation indefinitely.

Going beyond simple physical stimulation, the science officers also deploy a form of precision laser and radiation stimulation, using their technology to perfectly map and stimulate nerves anywhere within the subject's penis, and allowing them to push the floating unsatisfied state of desire to superhuman levels.

While knowledge gains through these experiments will lead to greater pleasures for the majority of malekind, the subjects and their erections will likely remain under the calm and watchful eyes of the science officers, forever diligently seeking the limits of the human erection.

THE PLEASURE INFLICTED TO A HUMAN PENIS UPON ENTERING THE ARMOURD VAGINAS IS OF A PARTICULARLY BRUTAL VARIETY. BEING FAR LESS CONCERNED WITH PLEASURE AND MORE WITH QUICKLY EXTRACTING AS MUCH SEMEN AS POSSIBLE.

SUPPRESSING REBELLION

During the initial invasion the Aliens deployed to the task were largely the common Alien citizens, who despite being more than enough to overpower the human resistance they would encounter, were ultimately far more interested in capturing and raping the human male than killing or actively hunting down other humans.

Because of this many human women and even some men would end up in hiding in various locations, forming resistance groups that would attempt to shelter men who had escaped the initial wave, and even plot to fight back against the invaders as the opportunity presented, despite the surrender of human leadership elsewhere.

Groups such as these would quickly discover however that despite their sometimes carefree seeming behaviour the Aliens had an extremely low tolerance for plots that would deliberately hinder their colonisation of the planet, and perhaps even less tolerance for a group of humans that attempted to hide healthy male cocks from their attentions.

Swiftly and often with little warning such groups would find themselves under assault by a far more combat orientated group of Alien soldiers, clad head to toe in menacing armour and acting decisively and with great precision unlike their more easily distracted alien brethren. The armour the aliens wear suppresses their normally insatiable lust and allows them to focus on the objectives at hand.

While unclaimed adult men would naturally be captured, any human females believed to be hostile or involved with concealing men would often also be captured as well. Captured human males could expect to be systematically and dispassionately raped by their armoured captors, often in front of the female prisoners who can only watch helplessly as the men they attempted to protect quickly break down before their eyes.

ALIEN SCIENCE OFFICER

While any Alien with talent and dedication in the field can be considered a scientist, an Alien Science Officer is a more formal designation for those aliens who have achieved expertise in a broad range of fields and work directly with the alien hierarchy to solve practical and immediate problems the aliens are likely to encounter while assimilating into earth's environment and interbreeding with its population.

Like Medical Officers they employ a suppressive device to help keep their urges to mate in check while they often spend long periods and energy working on problematic issues and coordinating with other aliens on solutions. As they use the devices for longer than most individuals in their society they are far more clear-minded than most, who can function quite normally in spite of the constant desire to fuck boiling under the surface. The removal of this mental noise improves their mental abilities enormously, but few Aliens are willing to give it up their ever pleasurable lust to experience the benefits.

That being said their deeply ingrained sexual nature does not entirely disappear either and reasserts itself in odd ways. Alien officers tend to develop an odd fascination with the limits and nature of sex itself, leading to the development of ever more advanced technology and experiments designed to push males to their limits and expand the horizons of pleasure for their entire civilization.

ALIEN SOLDIER

While humans fought what they believed to be an army of invaders, the Aliens themselves did not treat it like a military operation and avoided killing humans wherever possible. Human weapons both small and large either lacked the power or finesse to truly be a threat and so the initial invasion ended with remarkably few casualties on either side.

A true military force does exist in the alien's ranks, however, and after the invasion, human resistance groups began to form among the civilian populations, and the deployment of the alien soldiers became necessary to quickly bring these disruptions to an end.

Alien soldiers are rarely seen by any humans other than their targets, and they are swift, efficient, and merciless in carrying out their tasks. Their armor helps them to suppress distracting urges when dealing with males, while also making them a far more powerful adversary.

THE BANQUET HALLS ARE POPULAR SOCIAL SPACES WHERE VARIOUS INDIVIDUAL ALIENS CAN MINGLE OVER THE FRAGRANCE OF COCKS AND MOUTHFULS OF CUM.

BANQUET HALLS

Not all human males are considered suitable for mating, however, such males are still very much in demand in the alien society. While males used for mating receive modifications to increase the chances of successful insemination, the rejected males make excellent material for recreational sex-pets as they can be modified in a much wider variety of ways without having to worry about their reproductive viability.

A particularly popular modification was the discovery that a human male's reproductive organ could be modified to give their seminal fluid a mild intoxicating property. Along with modifications to improve flavor, texture, and production capability, the affected males are left unavoidably sterile yet painfully full of ejaculate at all times.

During recreational periods the aliens will often enjoy drinking parties with bound males relentlessly sucked and jerked dry by the aliens to squeeze every drop from their swollen cocks and balls. While not exactly drunk the aliens do get a strong buzz of arousal, which makes this a popular activity all aliens will often enjoy daily.

Although the semen from the man can be collected mechanically, the aliens seem to consider it much more enjoyable and classy to drink from the source. Indeed they seem to enjoy comparing the taste and potency of the various males, and the most popular 'vintages' are often given further enhancements so they can meet the demands of the seemingly endless line of aliens ready to consume them.

When not on display the men are placed in particularly special chastity devices, as humans have far less resistance to the addictive effect of their modified semen. Even mild exposure to their own ejaculate might lead to a strong addiction where they would chronically masturbate and consume their own fluids without being about to stop themselves.

IN THE PRESENCE OF A MATRON'S HEAVY BOSOM, MALES INSTINCTIVELY RECALL THEIR DESIRE TO NURSE, CRYING OUT FOR THEIR MOTHERLY OVERSEER'S MILK TO REFILL THEIR ACHINGLY EMPTY BALLS..

CARE OF THE MATRONS

The lives of human men captured by the aliens revolves almost entirely around their penis. They are often raped and mated for hours at a time, sucked and fucked dry in every way imaginable by the voracious females that dominate their very lives.

Its only natural however that even with their bodies and cocks enhanced to the extreme, the men still require periodic sleep and sustenance in order to keep their cocks undamaged and in prime condition for mating.

Resting males are housed in special beds, almost unworldly soft and comfortable despite also being able to restrain the male and prevent them from touching themselves or resisting the care of the Alien Matrons that tend to their needs.

Aliens Matrons are often slightly older individuals of their species, in particular, those Aliens that have previously given birth are often well suited to the position as their already potent breast milk becomes even more so after their first child is born. Aliens will never entirely stop growing with age, and so the average Matron is a towering existence, with enormous and bountiful breasts to provide rich sustenance to the males in their care.

While age does not diminish their libido in the slightest, it does give the Matrons enough discipline to care for the exhausted males without succumbing to their normal instinct to immediately mate them...most of the time at least. Instead they use soothing lotions to massage their cocks and probe the delicate male anus, skillfully avoiding ejaculation while promoting swift recovery of the male sexual organs.

After being well-fed and cared for, the men can finally, get a good night's rest. However they inevitably awaken with fresh morning erections, ready for another day of solid mating, starting with the Matrons themselves, who by this point have waited more than long enough...

ALIEN SERVER

Alien servers are a vital and well-respected part of the alien society despite often taking the role of waiters or other seemingly menial service positions.

Alien servers are the front-line staff at any Alien mass-breeding orgy, semen bar, or similar event where the participants need to be monitored to prevent injuries from the overly excited aliens and exhausted males.

While most Aliens would find it difficult to remain professional in the presence of group sex and males ripe for the mating, the alien servers train themselves to monitor such situation and assist the participants without falling to the temptation to join the festivities.

Although they are responsible for extracting males from situations once they are fully exhausted of semen, they are also experts at pushing males to the limit of their stamina, and often assist the other Aliens at getting the very most out of their meals.

ALIEN MATRON

When a human male is not in service they are generally kept in dormitories watched over by Matrons, who ensure the males get proper rest and sustenance to ensure they will be ready for their next round of usage.

Matrons function as both authority figures and counselors of a fashion to the males in their care. Matrons train and enhance the natural power of their eyes and pheromones to specialize in thoroughly subjugating human men, and use this power to both quell rebellious streaks and comfort distraught and agitated men who might be struggling with the transition from their old lives to their current situation.

The overwhelming presence of a Matron in close quarters allows them to form a sense of intimacy and trust with almost any male no matter what their mental state, and then helps ease them into calm and sleep with sessions of close contact such as cuddling, kissing, and breastfeeding.

At the end of the day, however, Matrons are still first generation Aliens, and as such men will likely awake from their peaceful slumber with their morning erection being eagerly devoured or his hips unconsciously thrusting into her massive cleavage.

THE MILK OF PREGNANT ALIENS HAS AN ODD EFFECT ON THE SEMEN OF MALES THAT DRINK IT, TURNING IT INTO A RICH SLUDGE THAT IS CONSIDERED A PRIME TREAT.

ALIEN MATERNITY

Despite the constant reproductive activity enjoyed by the aliens, falling pregnant in the first generation is still somewhat rare and those that do so are treated with care and veneration by the other members of their society. Pregnant aliens are given special care and status during the term they remain pregnant, their health and the health of the developing offspring are closely monitored to remove as much risk possible and ensure a successful birth.

The pregnant aliens typically abstain from direct sexual intercourse to minimize any risk to their fetus, however their lustful nature if anything becomes even more intense during such period. Additionally, their breasts, which already produce milk during normal periods start to become engorged with even more potent formula which will quickly become painful if not regularly drained.

The solution to both problems is to train some of the nonbreeding males into Suckling Pets. The men are subtly altered so that some of the sensitivity normally felt by their penis is felt by the tongue instead. They are then secured in place around the pregnant alien and encouraged to suck and lick the sensitive areas. For the Alien this helps relieve their sexual urges and drain their excess milk. For the men, they quickly find themselves addicted to the sensation of being constantly aroused and the sensation of their tongues rubbing against the Alien's flesh and juices.

Although they will often feel just near the edge of ejaculation, they will find themselves unable to do so under their own power. The Aliens rarely let anything go to waste, and the men who are fed a steady diet of enriched breast milk will begin to produce a very thick, almost jelly-like seminal fluid that has quickly become a popular condiment eaten with meals or fed to other Sex-Pets as an edible treat.

The men are held in a state of near-permanent arousal for at least a full week, sometimes longer, before the aliens on duty will harvest the matured liquid by direct anal stimulation, resulting in a massive and lengthy orgasm as the unusually thick cum is slowly pushed out until none remains.

NOBLESSE IS RELENTLESS NYMPHOMANIACS EVEN BY THE STANDARDS OF ALIEN SOCIETY, AND THE TIRELESS COCKS OF THEIR SEXPETS ARE FUCKED WITHOUT MERCY OR END.

NOBLESSE SEXPETS

Aliens of a higher rank have both greater responsibilities and more access to luxury than what is normally available to the regular alien citizen. Noblesse Aliens routinely undergo artificial insemination using only high quality generic materials collected in the high-yield extractors and cannot participate in casual reproductive sex with human males.

However even with artificial insemination the successful conception rate is still quite low and requires many attempts, and the alien nobles are no less lustful in their desire to perform reproductive acts with the human males. Because of this noble aliens are allowed access to specially prepared males to act as outlets for their sexual needs.

The males in question are given a number of specialized treatments before being put to use as a noblesse sex toy. The nanomachines in their bodies not only prevent the production of viable sperm cells but reduce the production of regular semen considerably. Instead, the men produce large amounts of enhanced pre-cum which helps to keep them lubricated even during extensive use.

Perhaps most tragically for the men selected as sex pets is that they are given semi-permanent erections, but due to the changes in their bodies, it is almost impossible for them to ejaculate. Each day they wake up to their cocks fully erect and assaulting them with a need for stimulation, but no matter how close they come to the edge of ejaculation it will simply never come.

For the Noblesse however this is a perfect outcome. The males are fitted with equipment that narrows their senses and intensifies the aching sensation in their loins, and the aliens will tease and gently invite them to surrender to their desire. Even if some part of them knows it is futile the men quickly succumb, helplessly thrusting their hips into the objects of their desire looking for any kind of relief.

Eventually, exhaustion will prevent them from continuing under their own power, but the Noblesse are seldom satisfied. No matter how exhausted the men become their cocks remain steadfastly solid as long as they are still conscious, and at this point, they will often be mounted and relentlessly ravished, a convenient sex object for the alien pursuing her own pleasure until they are finally satisfied.

Before they finally sleep each day, the Matrons that care for them will use a special urethral probe to allow the male sex pets to experience an intense ejaculation, powerful enough to render them unconsciousness from the pleasure, where they can finally rest and recover for the days that follow.

WHILE THE ALIENS LOVE THEIR SEMEN BATHS, THE HUMAN MALES ARE TERRIFIED AND AT A LOSS. SURROUNDED AND IMMERSSED IN SEMEN, THEY CLING TO THEIR FEMALE MISTRESSES, DESPERATE TO NOT LOSE THEMSELVES AMONG THE FROTH.

SEED BATHS

Within the Aliens particular culture, the seed bath is the ultimate luxury. Even among the Aliens, this facility represents utter decadence, wastefully consuming resources and semen that could easily be put to better use elsewhere. However, for virtually all the Aliens the act of bathing and mating in pools of male seed is a fantasy too powerful to be ignored and exists as the greatest luxury for aliens of the highest ranks or for those who have performed particularly special services.

Many of the highest-ranked Aliens are those with important military or leadership responsibilities, who due to the importance of their tasks must often forgo mating and cannot be allowed to fall pregnant. For a society in which mating and reproduction hold such high significance this is considered a great sacrifice indeed and helps justify the existence of such a wasteful but alluring experience.

Even with all the advanced technology the aliens possess filling even a fairly small pool with fresh human ejaculate is a great undertaking. Large batteries of captive males are held tightly in specially fitted high-yield extractors, their testicles held in place and modified to hold lavish amounts of warm semen, ready to be forcefully extracted at a moment's notice. When the time comes to fill the bath the extractors activate with relentless pace, pleasurably forcing ejaculations with such frequency that the males are not given any chance to feel relief. The contents of their incredibly swollen balls are drained into a pool, gently heated to keep the fresh human sperm lively while the Aliens enjoy their submersion.

Once filled the Aliens themselves enter the pool with no hesitation, enjoying almost every aspect of sinking themselves into the tastes, textures and smell offered by the warm and alluring pond of humanity. Many will enjoy sinking themselves entirely and drinking deeply, driving themselves into almost a frenzy of eroticism.

Males are typically brought in to act as bath toys and sexual outlets for the overly excited occupants. Mentally worn down by their experiences with the Alien's society and under the influence of their eyes the human men are easily raped and assaulted while being submerged in the seed of their fellow captives, barely being able to comprehend the utter depravity of their situation as their own cum is quickly lost in the creamy white mass that surrounds them.

ALIEN NOBLESSE

Despite initially sounding like a privileged class, the alien 'nobles' are Aliens selected specifically for breeding to the exclusion of all other concerns. Much like the royalty of a beehive or an ant nest, the responsibility of an Alien noble is only to produce offspring, often through very specific matchmaking with selected semen.

Unlike almost all others in their species, alien nobles only reproduce through a form of artificial insemination. Selected males with good potential genetic matchups are milked continuously for weeks or months at a time to produce a small carefully selected sample that is then used to attempt a pregnancy. Even with this process the success rate is low and must be continuously attempted but the resulting hybrid offspring will greatly improve the gene pool available for the hybrid generations.

Despite the benefits, for an individual to give up reproduction via sex is considered an almost heroic act. To allow them some semblance of an ordinary lifestyle they are often supplied with carefully prepared males who are both sterilized to prevent pregnancy while having their genitals enhanced so they can both satisfy (and endure) the nobles' aggressive sexual drive.

ALIEN OFFICERS

The relatively strict hierarchy of the Alien society is a necessary element of their ability to traverse the depths of space where limited resources are not to be wasted and small accidents could be potentially disastrous. Those Aliens who hold responsibility will also tend to hold authority, as exemplified by the Officer class.

These Aliens are typically employed in leadership roles throughout the Alien colony ships, including operating important facilities like a ship's bridge or reactor chambers. They are all highly skilled at their given roles and generally are treated with great respect by other members of their society.

Because of their duties, however, they are typically restricted from reproductive sex unless they are on breeding leave. Breeding restrictions of any kind are considered a great sacrifice in the Alien culture, and so as compensation officers are often allowed to indulge in some of the more decadent and luxurious sexual activities, such as the incredibly wasteful full-body semen baths.

WHILE NATURE CAN PROVIDE A PERFECTLY FUNCTIONAL PENIS, THE QUEST FOR THE THE IDEAL SEX ORGAN IS THE DREAM OF ANY CIVILIZED SOCIETY.

PENIS SCULPTING

While Alien females can enjoy fucking almost any kind of penis, they are not above having preferences, nor are they hesitant about directly altering a male's physiology in order to bring those preferences to life.

Although size, hardness, and endurance are all generally favorable characteristics for a male penis to have, the Aliens as a group value variety, and so instead of chasing the perfect penis, they spend time and effort ensuring each cock in their possession is a work of art unto itself, finely crafted flesh that exists only to satisfy the desires of the females who prey on it.

While sculpting can imply a painful process, the reality is quite the opposite. The delicate instruments of the Alien Medical officers reshape the cock with inhuman precision, only inflicting unbearable pleasure as they fine-tune the nerves, reconfiguring their placement and sensitivity to match the desired result.

In order to keep the males compliant, Alien matrons cradle their heads in their heavy scented bosoms, feeding them milk directly to stimulate semen production keeps the penis aroused. While the rich milk keeps the males energized and hydrated, the Matrons themselves feast on the collected semen discharged from the penis, as the medical officers alternate between inflicting intense edging and mind shattering orgasms, in an effort to test the effectiveness of their modifications.

On specific occasions, such as when males are assigned to Juiscticars, the Aliens will go the extra mile to create an ideal penis to match the female recipient. Such a penis is a rare luxury in Alien society, only awarded in exchange for services of great merit to their society.

The modification process comes at a particular cost for the males involved. Their penises having been remodeled to withstand the intense affections of the Alien women, almost no amount of masturbation or self-pleasure will ever suffice to produce an orgasm. The males are left at the passionate mercy of the Alien women to rape their now insatiable cocks into submission, or be left eternally horny and unsatisfied by their monstrous erections.

THE NOBLESSE AND THIER PETS ARE TYPICALLY LOCKED IN AN ENDLESS CYCLE OF FUCKING, A BOTTOMLESS LUST CONSUMING AN UNBREAKABLE PENIS FOR HOURS ON END.

OBLIGE NOBLESSE

Alien noblesse are unique among their kind as being the only role in their society that breeds via artificial insemination instead of direct intercourse. While the aliens culturally prefer sex and breeding in the traditional sense, efficient and selective reproduction is also an important element of their interbreeding efforts and success as a spacefaring species.

In between frequent attempts at artificial insemination, Noblesse are in a constant state of heat and arousal caused by adjustments to their bodies to increase the success rate of fertilization. This state of arousal is so extreme that it's typically considered too dangerous for normal human males to be left with them unattended, and so a specially prepared selection of males is needed to help keep them happy and satisfied.

Among the Alien society, this role is considered one of the most intense human males can be selected for. Male candidates will typically be those with poor breeding outcomes, but good enough reproductive organs to withstand the modifications needed to fulfill the role of living erections whose only purpose is to endlessly attend to the lust of the female Noblesse, while receiving very little satisfaction for themselves.

Erection Pets will typically have their penises enlarged and be effectively sterilized to prevent any possibility of breeding. Instead, their penises will secrete large amounts of slick lubricating fluid while maintaining an almost constant unbreakable erection. Normal ejaculation is typically impossible, and so their erections can last hours or even days at a time despite constant stimulation and frustration similar to that of being constantly edged.

Noblesse will mount the unfortunate males and pump their cocks with wild abandon for hours on end, to the point where any lesser penis would be easily spent, broken and crushed as their wild movements and powerful vaginas ruthlessly assault the helpless members they devour. The males are left unable to do anything but weakly respond to their overwhelming desire to orgasm, despite it being almost impossible to achieve no matter how overwhelming the stimulation.

Matrons periodically extract the Erection Pets in 20-hour cycles from the clutches of the Noblesse, and spend a great deal of effort rehydrating and rehabilitating them for further use. One of the only moments of reprieve an erection pet can enjoy is the gentle touch of Aliens Matrons, who use a special probe to penetrate the male's urethra and stimulate an intense dry orgasm, finally allowing the male to fall into blissful unconsciousness.

SEMEN SHOWERS ARE HIDEOUSLY INEFFICIENT, AND ONLY A RELATIVE FEW EXIST TO SERVE THE OFFICER CORPS, KEEPING THEM IN CONSTANT USE.

SEMEN SHOWERS

The duties of an Alien officer are some of the most important in their society, often mentally and physically taxing as well as heavily restricting their opportunities to fuck.

While the Aliens have various medical means to suppress their excessive lust when necessary, these do very little to help with the loss of morale and motivation that commonly afflicts any Alien female that does not have a prolonged mating session at least once a day.

Alien officers have various exclusive facilities available to help them indulge their built-up lust periodically. But the quickest and most effective treatment for officers in overheat is a short break in a semen shower.

Semen showers are a testament to the Aliens' dedication to authentic sexual indulgence. While far simpler to pump semen in via pipes, the aliens' tackled the engineering challenges required to modularly install as many males as possible into the sides of a small shower stall and have them ejaculate fresh warm cum directly to a cock-starved female occupant.

Fully clothed cum showers are now a frequent morning routine for all alien officers before heading to their duties. Having their bodies and clothes wet and reeking of semen is a pleasant way for an officer to start the day, and they often complement each other on being particularly drenched and fragrant.

SUBMERGING IN WARM CUM IS A HEAVENLY EXPERIENCE FOR ALIEN FEMALES. ALMOST ENOUGH FOR THEM TO FORGO SEX...ALMOST...

NOBLESSE THERAPY POOL

As part of their preparation for selective breeding, Alien Nobles undergo a myriad of biological modifications that often cause their already aggressive sex drives to ascend to new highs. As such they are one of the few categories of Alien who is allowed to routinely access full-body cum bathing as a therapeutic measure.

The effort required to create and maintain pools of warm fresh semen big enough to submerge into is naturally a gargantuan task even with access to Alien technology and large populations of human males. Even a single pool in a sealed environment could represent the continuous efforts of hundreds of males completely devoted to the production and extraction of semen.

While bathing in semen is luxurious and helps maintain the noble's state of mind - they are still very much desirous of the act of mating, even if they cannot reproduce directly from sex alone. Additional males are routinely prepared and sent into the pool chamber to act as companions for nobles who, in true aliens fashion, proceed to mate relentlessly in massive orgies, quickly filling the closed environment with the humid stench of cum and sweat.

Males caught near the pool itself will be dragged into the milky abyss without mercy as seemingly dozens of green hands materialize from under the surface to pull them in. The men twist and struggle within the slick and sticky discharge of humanity as countless hands and tongues assault and violate them from every angle, forcing their seemingly meager loads into the vast whiter expanse that surrounds them.

DESPITE ITS BIZARRE APPEARANCE, HIGH YIELD PRODUCTION UNITS ARE DESIGNED TO EMULATE AN ALMOST WOMB-LIKE EXPERIENCE, SATURATED WITH ORGASMIC PLEASURE, PRODUCING ENDLESS STREAMS OF MILKY WHITE DISCHARGE.

HIGH-YIELD PRODUCTION

The Aliens' drive for sex and reproductive pleasure is baked deep into their culture and manifests in various ways, such as their almost instinctual desire for male ejaculate. It did not take long after their arrival for human semen to begin seeing use in a variety of applications outside of simple reproduction. It is used in their food, cosmetics, and all manner of recreational activities.

Even with the entire male population of Earth more or less at their service, meeting the sheer volume required for many applications require certain males to be fully dedicated to the purpose of semen production, and specialized for quantity over quality.

This task typically falls to males with poor breeding quality or some other trait that makes them less suitable for the Aliens interbreeding purposes. The Aliens consider it a triumph of their civilization that even the most unfortunate males are afforded a lifetime of sexual pleasure, where more primitive societies would have left many of them to live lives of sexual frustration owing to their undesirability.

The selected males are placed into skin-tight membranes that act as a second skin and connected to devices that will perfectly maintain and sustain their biological functions. From there they are altered by the alien's technology, their testicles swelling to enormous size to allow rapid mass production of sperm cells while their seminal vesicles are directly enhanced and supplied raw materials to keep up with the new rate of production.

Once the changes are complete the male will begin experiencing almost continuous orgasms. Constant oscillating stimulation keeps them writhing in rapture as they throb and thrust, producing streams of milky white liquid with every movement. The rhythmic thrusting of the shiny sacks is often compared to that of a heartbeat, as the male inside becomes an organ dedicated to the pumping of semen, quickly losing all other sense of self or purpose.

TO BE FUCKED BY YOUR OWN MULTITUDE OF COCKS IS A DEVASTATINGLY ADDICTIVE SENSATION FOR THE MALES WHO EXPERIENCE IT.

PARENTHOOD

In the Alien culture, reproduction is of great importance, and successful birth is often met with appropriate joy and celebration among the birth mother's immediate family unit. Hybrid children being difficult to conceive and requiring special attention during their early development makes their arrival all the more special for the Alien society as a whole.

Alien individuals typically live in groups of five to ten loosely related females, which depending on circumstances can all have various different ranks or duties from each other. In domestic life, an individual's rank is usually not a factor in purely familial interactions. Male individuals are rarely ever permanently involved in a family unit since mating is rarely a private activity and males are often left available to for any female to use.

There is one time however when a male and an Alien family do share an important interaction, and that is in the time immediately after an alien in that family successfully gives birth. The Aliens place enormous value on parenthood, although their common sense on the matter is quite different than that of humans. While the Aliens have a concept of a birth mother, generally speaking, every individual female in a family unit become a 'mother' to any child born in the family, all taking collective responsibility to care for and raise them.

The Aliens do not have the concept of a father, males are not involved in raising children and are not considered 'related' in any way. Incest is typically avoided for purely biological reasons but otherwise, all males are potential mates to any Alien or hybrid female. The Aliens do however have a sense of gratitude towards the male that has impregnated them, and thus the 'father' is often involved in the celebration of a newly born child.

During such a celebration the family will gather together and acquaint themselves with the newborn while 'thanking' the visiting male using specialized tools created for such an occasion. Much like human sex toys the strap-ons used by the Aliens are made to resemble male genitalia, however, they serve a much more nuanced function than just a primitive male sex organ. Each device is connected to the male's nervous system via his penis, creating a temporary network of artificial phalluses, each one not only as sensitive as the real thing but also each on their own individual network, giving the male the illusion of suddenly having many new individual sex organs aside from his own.

In genuine gratitude toward their male guest for his genetic contribution, the aliens bestow a great gift upon him, allowing him to experience the closest thing possible to mating with himself. For hours the man will experience the feeling of his own cock deep in his ass and mouth while his other cocks are toyed and played with by other Aliens awaiting their turn. Each cock comes complete with ball sacks filled with gooey aphrodisiac created especially to increase a male's arousal when taken orally or rectally, which in turn is released only when that individual cock is simulated enough to produce its own orgasm, allowing the man to experience the bliss of ejaculating inside himself or all over himself as the situation unfolds.

Human men who experience this will typically lose whatever remnant of pride they may have still had, assaulted as they are by a truly impossible level of pleasure. Their only chance to experience it again is to focus on hopefully siring another child, and from this point forward that alone might become their sole desire.

IN EXCHANGE FOR HEALTH, YOUTH AND BEUATY, FEMALE DEFECTORS TO THE ALIENS CAUSE EASILY BECOME MUHC LIKE THE ALIENS THEMSELVES. THE THIN VENEER OF MORALITY EASILY GIVING WAY TO DESIRE.

FEMALE HUMAN DEFECTORS

The Alien's massive interbreeding project was to be advanced in stages over multiple generations, and as such maintaining a viable human population would be a vital component, as hybrid offspring of both sexes would be mated with both pure human and Alien individuals. With the vast majority of human males under the Alien's control, an offer was made by the aliens to adopt human women into their society, where they could benefit greatly from their advanced civilization so long as they would be willing to contribute to the cause.

Naturally, many human women were severely reluctant, if not openly hostile to the invader's offers, but the seeds of temptation had been planted. The Aliens advanced medical technology promised long life, vitality, and even beauty to any woman that accepted their terms, and with the prospect of the slow death of the female population looming large before them, some human women began to defect to the Alien's side.

To the Alien's the females of humanity were much akin to children, something much alike themselves but far too ignorant of the universe and in need of firm guidance and education to bring them closer to the Alien's ideals. Along with the treatments that would ensure their health the aliens would subtly modify the woman in their care, slowly rising their libido and fertility over time in order to facilitate easier mating.

Most of the women would have at one point known a father, lover, son or other male human from before the invader's arrival, and while the Aliens could easily eliminate the woman's inhibitions medically, they consider this detrimental in the long run, preferring to gradually introduce them to the Alien's culture of mating and proper treatment of males and have them naturally relearn the attitudes and behaviors expected of civilized females.

The women are eventually introduced to rooms of bound and masked men, attached to machines, and contorted into poses of extreme submission. Despite the somewhat brutal presentation, the men are not harmed by the arrangement and carefully monitored and maintained by the machine to ensure they can be mated at anytime, their only possible movement to weakly thrust their groins upward in response to stimuli.

The face coverings and contorted appearance is a deliberate setup by the aliens to help the woman overcome their initial hesitation of mating with a helpless man. Without recognizable faces and barely seeming like the shape of humans, the erect penises stand out like helpless prey to the increasingly carnivorous woman.

With their bodies demanding satisfaction and the gentle coaxing of the Alien supervisors, the woman eventually succumbs to the temptation before them, thoroughly raping the helpless cocks until their lust is satisfied. At this point, the woman is often considered by the aliens to be ready for further training and assignments within their society. The women are free to visit the breeding room often even after their training is completed, and encouraged to fall pregnant whenever they please.

Even pregnant human women are encouraged to visit and satisfy their desires, as the aliens teach them among other things that a male's seed naturally belongs to a female, and it's a male's natural condition to surrender it.

ALIEN LEISURE

While Aliens typically wear appropriate uniforms and equipment that reflect their roles, in private they are free to wear, or not wear whatever they wish. Deeply rooted habits, however, mean that females in the same family unit tend to wear similar clothes in private as well, particularly when enjoying a male together.

Alien familiar units are typically allowed to 'borrow' a male for private use, so long as it is arranged properly in advance with the matrons to ensure the male's health and duties are being properly looked after.

While this can often lead to high-energy mating sessions with five to six alien individuals, it is also just as likely to result in a very lazy low energy orgy with the men often finding themselves entangled in the bodies of sleeping alien women, absentmindedly rubbing licking and sucking various places while getting plenty of sleep for the following morning.

FEMALE DEFECTORS

The Aliens actively encourage human women to participate in the formation of their new society, and since there are many benefits available to them for doing so, many women choose to willingly defect to the alien's side. As a result, these women typically acquire healthy, youthful bodies with a pronounced desire to mate.

The Aliens help transition these women through what is effectively their second puberty by providing them with a supply of human males to fuck, and while doing so reeducate them on the proper role of men in an advanced society. Over time most women come around to the Alien's ways, and freely indulge in males to satisfy their desires, as is only natural and correct.

FEMALE DEFECTORS QUICKLY ADAPT TO THEIR NEW NORMAL, WHERE MALES ARE TO BE RAPED WITHOUT MERCY OR HESITATION IN PURSUIT OF PLEASURE.

FEMALE DEFECTORS

In the aftermath of the Alien's invasion of Earth, the vast majority of the adult male population was captured for breeding by the invaders, leaving the female population to reorganize what remained of human society.

The Aliens and the female humans eventually reached an agreement that would allow the female humans to live in semi-autonomy from the invaders, and even be provided some of the male population for breeding, so long as any male offspring would be properly assessed for crossbreeding purposes when they came of age.

While many human women were hesitant, if not outright hostile to the idea of cooperating with the invaders, the Aliens actively encouraged many human females to take an active part in their new society, with significant benefits offered to those who defect.

The Alien's medical technology could offer almost any woman a youthful and healthy body, free of many of the frailties humans take for granted. Even women in the twilight of life could regain vigor and beauty of decades past, and such temptations meant many human women eventually went willingly to the Alien's side.

Along with youth and energy, however, came an intense desire to mate, much like that of the Aliens themselves. While adjusting to their new bodies, these women would spend weeks beside themselves with lust, unable to think of anything beyond the need to fuck. The Aliens provided these newly recruited women all the cocks they need, and they devour them with wild abandon.

Over time the human women would adjust to their new bodies and become useful members of the Alien society, Any hesitation they might once have had to assault human males will be forever gone, as casual sex and mouthfuls of cum become comforts they can no longer live without.

SEX IS THE CORNERSTONE OF ALL ALIEN CULTURE, BE IT SPORTS OR ARTS.

ALIEN SEXERCISE - HAND BALL

Despite being both casual and overwhelming in most forms of sexual activity, the Aliens are surprisingly disinterested in giving simple handjobs under normal circumstances, as it's not considered a particularly effective form of pleasure, reproduction, or even consumption - all things far better handled with their genitals, tongues, or even machines where appropriate.

That being said, much like humans finding amusement in controlling a ball with their feet, the aliens also make a sport out of the act of dominating men in unusual and skillful manners, with hands-only sex being one of the many varieties played regularly in their communities. Alien Hand-Ball is typically played in two teams of eleven: 10 female fielders, and one male ball each. The aim of the game is to jerk the opposing team's ball until their cocks ejaculate, with the team that produces the most semen from the opposing ball being the eventual winners once time runs out.

While each team trains their ball to hold out as long as possible, the real skill in the game falls on the female player's ability to extract the most semen possible from the increasingly exhausted genitals of the opposing team's ball. Additionally, the ball must be passed to a new team member in rotation after every ejaculation, necessitating teamwork among the members to efficiently and ruthlessly extract more and more cum.

While technically only the hands can be used to stimulate the genitals, players are always strategizing to gain a slight edge on the competition. A common tactic is to hold the male ball in a headlock that deliberately exposes them to the armpits, where alien women sweat and pheromones are particularly concentrated and cause unavoidable sexual arousal in even the most exhausted male bodies. Because of tactics like this, the males in the game experience little more than swift capture and imprisonment beneath the arms of an alien female, their nostrils filling their brains with sex while slick, gloved hands ruthlessly stimulate their rods again and again far past their natural limits. The male ball on the losing team can also expect to be thoroughly retained by their teammates, so as not to cum too quickly the next time around.

ALIEN JUSTICAR

The Alien justicar functions as a judge and arbitrator of most disputes within the Alien's society, such as there are. While they are not responsible for the creations of law or regulations, they are often the final authority regarding their interpretation and enforcement. Of all aliens and humans living in their society, only the matriarchs do not fall under their jurisdiction.

Justicars often live at some distance from the most other aliens in their society to maintain as much impartiality from everyday affairs as possible. They are some of the very few aliens that have their own personal males, as they do not engage in the public orgies or breeding in any way.

As such they are also one of the few varieties of Alien to grow a personal attachment to particular males, although this does nothing to change them ravenously mating for hours at a time after a long day of abstaining to fulfill their duties.

ALIEN CHARON

The Charon are the final destination of all males, human or hybrid, that live in the Alien's society. While the Alien's medical technology can keep human males healthy and mating for nearly a century, there inevitably comes a time where all biological beings must confront their mortality.

Aliens do not believe there is a good way for anything to die, but they do believe there is a preferable one for the males in their service. Once a male begins to fail with age, the aliens begin to give him treatments to push his reproductive system into a final energetic period of activity. They are then paired up with a Charon, an alien woman who embraces the male, enclosing him in her tight environmental suit and suspending them in a weightless state within a suspension tank.

The male is completely isolated from the outside environment, his penis rhythmically pumping and ejaculating into the Alien woman's welcoming flesh. Her warmth and softness becomes his world, like a newborn in its mother's womb. The man is given any drugs or treatment necessary to ease the pain of age and the fear of death and then left to slowly pump their hips and continue mating until they finally and peacefully fade away.

Form the Alien's perspective this is as good as they can do for the males that spent their lives being milked for seed and pleasure. To leave with peace of mind and empty balls.

THE COLD AND IMPARTIAL IN PUBLIC, JUSTICARS ARE INTENSELY PASSIONATE IN PRIVATE. ONLY THEIR PERSONAL MALE WILL EVER WITNESS THEIR SAVAGE AFFECTIONS FIRST HAND.

ALIEN JUSTICARS

Alien Justicars function as judges and arbiters of most civil disputes within their society. As part of a lifestyle to maintain both strict impartiality and fairness in all their judgments, they are one of the few Alien types that do not mate with multiple males, instead being assigned a personal mate for their exclusive use.

In the course of a normal day, Justicars use a combination of training and medication to suppress their libido, and are able to remain calm and unaffected by the rampant sexual activity of normal Alien society. Repressing their instincts in this fashion however means that they return with a vengeance at the end of their duty periods.

Upon returning to their living space at the end of the day they will descend upon their male companion with ravenous desire. An off duty Justicar rivals an Alien Noblesse in their endless lust for cock, and will fuck and suck their personal male at every opportunity, often lasting for hours at a time. Unlike Noblesse, however, this attention is directed exclusively at a single male and as a result the Justicars often develop intensely passionate feelings for their males, bordering on mania, but charitably described as love.

The unique position of being the exclusive male of a Justicar means the Aliens are both highly selective in choosing the right male and particularly exhaustive in modifying that male to suit the individual Justicar they are paired with. Along with DNA and personality, their cocks are often reshaped to specifically compliment the Justicar's vagina and vaginal canal.

The feeling of a perfectly molded cock entering a Justicar's pussy is intensely satisfying for both the male and Alien alike, and so both quickly lose themselves in each other's bodies, only stopping when they finally fall asleep still tangled together, blissfully content.

WHILE ALIENS ARE OFTEN TOO OCCUPIED BY THEIR OWN MATING TO NOTICE, THEY DO STILL APPRECIATE HOW ADORABLE IT IS TO SEE HUMAN MALES HUMMING UNCONTROLLABLY.

ALIEN ELDERS

While the Aliens do not visibly age much throughout their lives, they have the particularly non-human trait of slowly growing throughout their lifespans. This means older individuals can be impressively tall even compared to their younger counterparts, who themselves are by no means short by human standards.

With size and age, the Aliens intense desires tend to settle. Although their desire for sex remains strong, the youthful pursuit of cock is replaced by calm, almost dignified consumption of the male member.

Although many Aliens of this age are officially retired from active service, they often still play a vital role in Alien society as caretakers for males that need respite from more intense activities they might have been engaged in.

The size of an Elder alien allows them to take males in their care with them wherever they go, wearing them proudly as living sex toys. In contrast to the constant milking males often endure in other parts of alien society, those in the care of an Elder are free to thrust their hips at their own leisure, mindlessly enjoying the pleasure at their own pace.

For the Elders themselves, the spectacle of a male freely indulging their cocks is almost universally regarded as adorable. Elders often gather with other Aliens young and old to show off their latest pets, admiring their clumsy and endearing existences as they endlessly continue their desperate mating.

DEATH IS NEVER IDEAL, BUT INEVITABLE. IF ONE CANNOT AVOID THEIR FATE, THEN ALL THAT IS LEFT IS TO ORGASM IN THE FACE OF DEATH. ON FINAL ACXT OF PLEASURE TO CELEBRATE A LIFE WELL LIVED.

ALIEN CHARONS

In the Alien society, the Charons are the final destination of all males. Despite the relatively incredible medical and biological technology the Aliens possess, neither they nor the males in their care can escape their inevitable mortality.

Charons are typically the oldest aliens of the current population, each being at least a century old. Unlike humans, the Aliens themselves do not age much, and never lose their libido or hunger for mating. The most visible sign of an alien's age is their size, as they never entirely stop growing even after adulthood. Consequently, all Charons are large individuals, gentle giants whose youthful energy has faded somewhat and been replaced by a tender lust.

Alien medical technology is such that human males can expect to remain sexually productive and healthy for their entire natural lives, typically no less than 90 years absent from disease or injury. However, when a male's biological body begins to fail for any reason, the aliens will provide them with treatment to push their reproductive organs into one final grand burst of activity and pair them with a suitable Charon to begin the final stage of their lives.

The Charons seal the males inside their tight environmental suits, pressing their heads into their breasts and their energized penises deep into their welcoming flesh. The pair are suspended within a fluid tank to give the sensation of weightlessness and quiet, isolating the male from outside stimuli as possible so they can lose themselves in the womb-like paradise they are enclosed in.

With nothing but the scent and heartbeat of their caregiver for company, the males rhythmically thrust their hips and ejaculate mindlessly, quickly forgetting all the pains of age and any fear of death as they put all their remaining energy into the pursuit of pleasure. They are given whatever drugs or stimulants necessary to ensure they will pump their hips in endless rapture until they finally and peacefully fade away, with one final satisfying orgasm to mark their passing.

The Aliens do not believe there is a truly ideal way for one to end their lives, but in respect for the men who mated valiantly in service of their pleasure, this is the best they can do for them, to forget the specter of death and live to the end as males should, ejaculating freely.

FOR MATRIARCHS, FORCING MALES TO CUM IS AKIN TO BREATHING, TOTALLY NATURAL AND COMFORTABLE AS THEY GO ABOUT OTHER MATTERS WITHOUT DISTRACTION.

ALIEN MATRIARCHS

At the very apex of the Alien society are the Matriarchs, the Grand Admirals of the space fleet, and the overseers of their colonization and interbreeding projects. Relatively few Matriarchs exist, usually only found at the head of flagships and some important planet-side locations of government or military importance. Unlike most members of the Alien's culture Matriarchs are not born naturally but created using the full might of their biotechnological prowess, but due to the immense resources, time, and delicate work required, they are only ever created to serve particularly important roles.

Matriarchs are in almost every way greater than their natural born kin, their large powerfully efficient bodies host minds operating dimensions above what is normally possible, and each one is born filled with the great purpose of leading their kind to prosperity. Matriarchs cannot reproduce or even have sex under normal conditions, however at the core of their being, they are still driven by a desire for sex and reproduction as most of their kind are. This internal conflict leads them to indulge in lavish domination of the objects of their affection, as they alleviate their desire to mate by forcing attendant males to debase and surrender themselves sexually while consuming their seed and being pleased by mechanical means.

Matriarchs are not at all inconvenienced by the host that surrounds them, be it commanding a space fleet, handling matters of state, or commanding the military, they will handle such tasks flawlessly even as they casually force dozens of orgasms from the males around them. The restraints holding the attendant males in place are a matter of convenience, the mind control powers used by their kin are nothing compared to that exerted by a Matriarch's gaze. Human males under their influence will suffer almost any indignity to be allowed to cum in their presence, indeed many men who meet their eyes will find themselves coming to orgasm from that alone.

The breast milk and vaginal fluids of a Matriarch are dangerously potent, and must be properly diluted and processed before they are safe to come into contact with a human male. Improper exposure to the raw body fluids of an alien Matriarch would likely send a human male into shock as they would attempt to ejaculate far in excess of their ability to do so. No matter how heavily modified they might be by the Aliens technology the result would almost certainly be the male cumming to death, which the Aliens abhor as a long-abandoned method of capital punishment for male criminals.

Much like that of other aliens their milk is a potent aphrodisiac that promotes semen production and arousal in men. The machines attached to her body and throne collect and prepare a mixture of breast milk, vaginal discharge, excess human semen, and various supplementary nutrients which are then fed back into the men. Safely diluted in this manner the men who ingest the mixture become engrossed in the mindless act of fucking and ejaculating for the pleasure of their mistress, a much more proper fate for men in the service of the great cause.

While they greatly resemble the almost humanlike alien invaders, the Matriachs are in many ways much closer to what the aliens originally were before they modified themselves and traveled to earth. For humans contact with a Matriarch is a mere glimpse into something far greater, and far more terrible, waiting for them beyond the stars.

MALE HUMANS IN A MATRIARCHS PRESENCE WILL DESIRE NOTHING MORE THAN TO RUB THEIR COCKS ON HER GLORY, THEIR MINDS WASHED CLEAN OF ANYTHING BUT A DESIRE TO CUM IN HER PRESENCE, EVEN IF IT WOULD COST THEM THEIR LIVES.

ALIEN MATRIARCHS

The Alien Matriarchs are the grand Admirals of the Alien Fleet, each one the undisputed mistress of the flagship they were born to command. Among the Aliens that came to the Earth, they are the closest to the Alien's original forms, mostly now discarded in favor of their human-like appearances.

Although they are effectively the highest authority in the Aliens society, this power is typically reserved to command operations of the fleet, and they merely act as advisers when it comes to other parts of Alien society.

Unlike other Aliens, the physiology of a Matriarch is not very compatible with human males, and it would in fact be highly dangerous if a male attempted sexual contact directly, as even being in the presence of a Matriarch forces males into a state of hyperarousal and instinctual submission. Direct contact with the vaginal area would likely be fatal as the males literally orgasm to death.

Despite the difficulties, the Matriarchs are still sexual beings much like their other kin, and so greatly enjoy the process of forcing males to orgasm and enjoying the taste and smell of semen. Well trained and properly conditioned male companions are often supplied for the Matriarch's enjoyment, although they can do little more than hump mindlessly against her body, desperately trying to relieve their aching erections.

As long as the males remain in her presence however, their cocks will remain firmly erect no matter how much they cum. Only sheer exhaustion and unconsciousness can eventually release them from their fanatical desire to empty their balls before their goddess.

HYBRID FEMALES ADOPTED MANY ELEMENTS OF HUMANITY DESPITE RESEMBLING THEIR MOTHERS IN THEIR LOVE OF SEX, MATING, AND TOTAL DOMINATION OF MALES.

HYBRID FEMALES

Sometime after the invasion of Earth, the first generation of born of Alien-human hybrids began to reach adulthood. The careful selection of suitable human men and the Alien mothers however would result in beings that were more than just a simple combination of the two.

While male hybrids with their own particular characteristics were also born, the majority of births in the first hybrid generation would be females, and so it would fall to them to subsume much of what remained of the native male humans. Unlike their alien mothers whose bodies were merely a facsimile of human women, hybrid women are far better adapted in general, having manifested the full potential of the Alien's careful hybridization and genetic manipulation.

While they can no longer use their eyes to brainwash their prey into submission, almost everything else about them is improved and specialized. They are strong, hearty, and can live substantially longer even compared to their mother race, while their desire to mate and sexually dominate remains every bit as strong.

Even the musculature of their reproductive organs has been altered significantly. When aroused the female's vaginal entrance opens up, drooling like a maw ready to devour cock of its own violation. Once a penis is inserted it can be almost impossible for the male to remove it until the female allows it, as the vaginal walls will twist and seize the erect member, while the cervix inside can lower and seize the male glans, forcibly milking any and all semen into the waiting uterus.

The pheromones of a hybrid female demand submission from any male with even a trace of humanity in them. Exposure to the smell, sweat, or body fluids of an aroused female will awaken deep feelings of deep admiration, lust, and even fear, resulting in males who will desperately present their cocks in hopes of pleasing the female and being allowed to mate or even just orgasm for her amusement.

While they are also far easier to impregnate than their space-faring mothers, they are also much more prone to bouts of sexual sadism. Rather than simply fucking a man dry as their mothers did before them, the hybrid woman will often make the men beg, demand oral pleasures, and torment their delicate male organs. This aspect of their sexual character was neither present in nor intended by their mother race, and perhaps represents something distinctly human, revealed from within them.

HYBRID MALES REPRESENT THE TRUE POTENTIAL OF MALEKIND, UTTERLY SUBMISSIVE, AND DESIGNED ENTIRELY TO SATISFY THE SEXUAL NEEDS OF THEIR FEMALE SUPERIORS.

HYBRID MALES

Also born among the first wave of alien and human offspring were the first generation of hybrid males, who despite retaining a distinctly human skin tone compared to their female counterparts were also drastically altered by their mixed parentage. Much like female hybrids they generally possess greatly improved health and vitality, however since much of their energy and stamina ultimately goes to their reproductive organs they rarely develop strength or presence comparable to females, and are instinctively rendered quite servile towards the superior gender.

Hybrid males are born at a far more infrequent rate than females, perhaps comprising only one in every fifty births. However, this was an expected and deliberate outcome of the Aliens breeding program, where a single hybrid male could very well be used by hundreds of women depending on his genetic suitability and all-around popularity.

From early childhood until near adulthood hybrid males are carefully raised in almost idyllic conditions, kept physically healthy and mentally stimulated until the onset of puberty when their sexual characteristics will rapidly develop towards maturity. At this time they will undergo a short but intense period of sexual guidance to prepare them for life ahead.

A hybrid male's genitals are incredibly active and efficient, often swelling to uncomfortable sizes as they produce the large amounts of semen they will need in order to function in the new society of humanity. Their cocks as well swell into tools of unashamed pleasure and insemination, the foreskin giving way completely into the formation of grooves and ridges that stimulate and excrete additional lubrication fluids to keep the member from being damaged by long hours of use.

A hybrid male's erection almost never subsides, particularly in the presence of females; alien or human. They stay in a state of arousal for much of their adult lives and often need to be fitted with special devices to monitor for and prevent wasteful masturbation.

As a result hybrid men will spend most of their time trying to attract female attention, opening their legs to display their swollen sacks and members, while others will drop to their knees with open mouths ready to gratefully service a hot wet pussy. Much like the Aliens addiction to human semen, the hybrid men are easily enraptured by the tastes and fragrance of a woman's fluids, and many quickly learn how to please with their tongues alone.

While the woman may play for their affections for some time, inevitably the men will find themselves at the mercy of the females desires, devoured by one mouth or the other. Once in their hands, they can do little but submit as orgasm after orgasm is wrung from them. It can take hours before a hybrid male can no longer maintain a usable erection and provided rest and sustenance follows only a few hours more before they return to their former state, once again plagued by a need to seek female attention.

HYBRID FEMALES

At least 90% of the children born between a pure-blood alien and a human male result in the birth of a female hybrid. These women would grow up to be an important part of the aliens long term project to absorb the remaining human population into what would eventually become an entirely new subspecies, possessing many of the traits of their alien mothers while being perfectly suited to the local environment and possessing the genetic variation to be a viable species in their own right.

Having grown up on the Earth the female hybrids have integrated many elements of both human and alien cultures, however, they remain every bit as lustful as their mothers, and freely use both human and hybrid males for their satisfaction.

While they still often require numerous mating sessions to fall pregnant, it is far easier for them than a pure-blood alien and this, in turn, allows them the freedom to explore their sexual dominance of males in ways their mothers did not.

HYBRID MALES

On rare occasions, the mating of human men and pureblood Aliens would result in a male hybrid, which the Aliens considered to be a fortuitous outcome due to both the rarity and utility such a member would bring to the future of their interbreeding efforts.

Upon reaching adulthood male hybrids' reproductive organs swell and mature, becoming highly active and efficient, while their foreskins give way entirely to the formation of well-lubricated ridges and grooves, entirely designed for the pleasure of females.

Male hybrid's lives are dominated by their penises, with almost every thought and action being dictated by their near-perpetual erections. Being physically inferior and instinctually subservient to females, they will do almost anything to please the females they encounter in the hopes of being able to plunge their cocks into the objects of their worship and affection.

IN TIME, THE NEW HUMANS OF EARTH WILL ALSO SEND A FLEET INTO THE DARKNESS OF SPACE, TO CONTINUE THEIR MOTHERS WORK AND CONTINUE MATING ACROSS THE COSMOS.

THE FUTURE

Within a few short generations of their arrival, the hybrid alien species swelled in number and soon became the dominant species on the planet. With the wisdom and technology of their mother species and bodies now perfectly suited to life on earth, the Alien's assimilation of the planet soon reached its completion.

The planet Earth, now united under the rule of its new dominant species, soon became one more in a vast number of planets to join the Alien's interplanetary union. While most of the humans were eventually taken for breeding, some local populations of the original human race were allowed to remain on the planet for preservation purposes, although the human men that remained lived under constant threat of rape and/or kidnapping by women in general.

The hybrid males were forever doomed to sexual servitude within their own society, their now naturally oversized reproductive organs left them with little more than a constant desire to fuck and please, much to the delight of the far more numerous and sexually aggressive female population.

In time the males of Earth would also attract the attention of other worlds in the aliens union. Men both human and hybrid would be put into cold sleep and sent across the stars where they would encounter any number of species willing to use them for experimental breeding or as rare living sex toys used to salify the strange and bizarre.

Perhaps one day, the new human race will be called upon to travel to distant stars, adapting themselves to be able to fuck the inhabitants of new and unknown worlds. Until that time the world will enjoy an unprecedented period of peace and prosperity, with womankind leading its civilization forward while mankind embraces its natural role as loyal and loving breeding stock, with no greater ambition than the pleasure of their mistresses and the promise of their next orgasm.

AUTHOR'S NOTE

If you have made it this far, then I hope you have enjoyed this short collection of images based on my Femdom Aliens setting - It is my personal favorite fantasy of all the various settings I have done, and it shows in the number of images and amount of text I have compiled. Honestly I can't see anybody reading all of this - but at the same time, I couldn't help but want to put it all together.

Please allow me to thank the following for encouraging more Alien content from me. :)

Macko46

Anonymous Alien

Jayco

Vostro

They all hopefully know who they are and are enjoying this collection themselves. Thanks again.

Hopefully, we will be adding more to this series and other collections of mine as time goes by, but thank you everyone for reading and I hope you continue to enjoy the femdom. :D

---NC

<https://subscribestar.adult/neocorona>

<https://twitter.com/neocorona>

