StarTribe Community Rules of Engagement

These are the rules for our Community. Please read them carefully.

Keep comments and responses focused on the topic. This will make the information easier to access as our forum grows.

- 1) Keep in mind the purpose of the StarTribe: We are here to explore Inelia and Larry's podcasts and classes. We are here to foster and grow high frequency relationships. Keep this in mind, and ensure your comments, your engagement in the further explorations of these podcasts and classes have this as a focus.
- 2) If you have a compatible service or product you'd like to share that is topic specific, please share it with us first and get permission. We are happy to share and be shared by compatible community members, in an agreeable fashion. Email Ashley for permission (ashley@ineliabenz.com).
- 3) There are public free posts, and there are subscription only posts. Feel free to share widely any public post that you feel would benefit the people you are connected with. Use consideration please with the comments others make, and ask permission before sharing what might be considered a private conversation. High frequency rules of engagement please.
- 4) Think before you comment. In today's internet culture it is easy to write before we really consider what we are about to say or to write simply to be seen. Please treat the platform as a sacred space for learning, studying, expansion of awareness, community, and connection. For casual social interaction, we invite you to use the StarTribe Telegram group. If you leave SubscribeStar you may remain in the StarTribe Telegram group.

- 5) Anyone involved in or actively indulging in the victim/aggressor cycle, attacking or accusing others, and generally invalidating, belittling or insulting other members either in the forum, via personal messages, in study groups, classes, or telegram groups, will be informed that this behavior is not tolerated on this platform. If it continues, various methods to de-escalate will be used depending on severity up to and including canceling your membership in the group.
- 6) If you have had negative interactions with a certain person, please share this with Ashley Swail, Community Manager, via email (ashley@ineliabenz.com). Transparency and Clarity are a key component of this community. It also helps the staff know if there are patterns occurring within the community, and can thus address situations better.
